

MINUTES OF A REGULAR MEETING

BROOKLYN CITY COUNCIL

November 14, 2005

7:00 p.m.

The Council and all in attendance recited the Pledge of Allegiance.

President Balbier: "Would you call the roll Mr. Fisk?"

Clerk Fisk: "Rita Brown."
"Colleen Gallagher."
"Greg Frey."
"Tom Coyne."
"John Frey."
"Rich Balbier."
"Kathy Pucci."

Councilwoman Brown: "Here."
Councilwoman Gallagher: "Here."
Councilman G. Frey: "Here."
Councilman Coyne: "Here."
Councilman J. Frey: "Here."
Councilman Balbier: "Here."
Councilwoman Pucci: "Here."

President Balbier: "Tonight's agenda is rather light. We have one Resolution, Resolution 2005-17, Accepting the amounts and rates as determined by the Budget Commission and authorizing the necessary tax levies and certifying them to the County Auditor; we have one Ordinance, Ordinance 2005-41, Authorizing inter-fund transfers and advances during 2005; and other matters that may come before Council. We have two minutes to approve, from October 10th and from October 14th. I need a motion for October 10th."

Councilman J. Frey: "Move to approve."

Councilman Coyne: "Second."

Clerk Fisk: "To approve the minutes for October 10th, Rita Brown." Councilwoman Brown: "Yea."
"Colleen Gallagher." Councilwoman Gallagher: "Yea."
"Greg Frey." Councilman G. Frey: "Yea."
"Tom Coyne." Councilman Coyne: "Yea."
"John Frey." Councilman J. Frey: "Yea."
"Rich Balbier." Councilman Balbier: "Yea."
"Kathy Pucci." Councilwoman Pucci: "Yea."

President Balbier: "Now the minutes from October 24th, we need a motion to accept."

Councilman J. Frey: "Move to accept."

Councilman Coyne: "Second."

Clerk Fisk: "To approve the minutes of October 24th, Rita Brown." Councilwoman Brown: "Yea."
"Colleen Gallagher." Councilwoman Gallagher: "Yea."
"Greg Frey." Councilman G. Frey: "Yea."
"Tom Coyne." Councilman Coyne: "Yea."
"John Frey." Councilman J. Frey: "Yea."
"Rich Balbier." Councilman Balbier: "Yea."
"Kathy Pucci." Councilwoman Pucci: "Yea."

President Balbier: "We'll now have the public session. Anyone that has anything to say for the good and welfare of the City of Brooklyn, please come forward, state your name and address, and hopefully we can get through it in three minutes."

Bob Garden: "Hi, my name is Bob Garden, I'm a resident of actually Brooklyn Center in Cleveland, address 3315 Library Avenue. I am the chair of the relatively newly formed Friends of Big Creek. I'm here tonight to kind of introduce those that aren't familiar with our organization a little bit about why we were formed and what our mission and what our vision is. I had passed out a flyer to the officials here, and with it an attached e-mail, that I apologize, I wanted to give a letter specifically to these individuals, but my keyboard had malfunctioned today, so I made copies of the flyer that was given to someone within the administration. The Friends of Big Creek, as I said, is relatively newly formed. I talked to Mayor Patton at a Planning Commission, County Planning Commission meeting, when was that, in the spring I think, about the formation of our group, and how our general vision is not only to increase awareness of the creek itself, but its quality, and the potential connections of the existing metro parks, Brookside Park to Memphis Reservation, for instance, to open up access to Brooklyn residents into the existing metro parks system eastward to the Ohio Erie Canal Reservation, the Zoo, and then onto the Reservation and then the National Parks south or downtown north. We are also looking at right now, we're in discussions with Cascade Crossing management association to look at bringing the trail that ends at Brookpark Road, Big Creek Reservation, northward into the Cascades area. That brings those people into this area for, allows access from the north for recreational purposes; and it brings people from the south into this area for economic opportunities at Cascade area. Recently we talked with the management board there, and their interested in possibly granting an easement for a trail... So, you know, Brookpark is really situated in a unique area that capitalize on these different park lands. And there's also potential for remediation of Big Creek, which is actually one of the most urbanized tributaries to the Cuyahoga River, and there's room for improvement. I had, as I said, I have some extra flyers for the public here. Maybe I can ask someone, I'll go outside and make copies. I didn't realize so many people would be attending. If there are any questions from the Council, this is, you know, a little late notice that I would arrive here, but I'm opening up our meeting... We have a meeting coming this Wednesday. Unfortunately Council is having a special meeting. But on December 7th we're inviting public officials for a special meeting. We can orient them with our vision, what our mission is. We have a power point presentation that we'll be showing; and we'll also cover the wetland guidance that public officials throughout the region have received recently, with officials from the soil and water district to go over that guidance if there's any questions. So I'm open to any question. Otherwise I hope to see if any of you Councilpeople have an opportunity before your Council meeting Wednesday or afterwards, to attend our meeting at the Senior Center here. And for the public, we'd like you to come as well. That'll start at 6:30, and our feature presentation is a presentation on the Ohio Erie Canal management plan, and Canalway National Heritage Corridor. So if you're interested in seeing how we could connect up into this, it'd be something you really don't want to miss. So I hope to see you, the public, at least Wednesday, and the public officials that can on the 7th. Thank you very much."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mr. Garden. Anyone else?"

Denise Hudak: "Good evening. Denise Hudak, 4888 Kennedy Drive. I'm here for two particular events. One, I am representing the Academic Boosters Association, which is at Brooklyn High School. And some good news, a fundraiser. As we all know, Chipotle is opening at the Tiedeman Road Cascade Crossings. And on Thursday, this coming Thursday the 17th, from 5 – 8 p.m., the Academic Boosters is holding a fundraiser for $5 at the door. You may go in and you will get a delicious Mexican meal with a soda for $5. So $5 at the door, this Thursday the 17th. And there's some flyers, I'll set them in the back. Then also on here, representing the TCB Association, which is an association that organized to bring a concert to Brooklyn High School. And Brooklyn High School rocked again at the 50th anniversary Rock and Roll Reunion Concert Saturday night on October 22nd. A year in planning, the show went off with a bang. The original Comets, the Four Lads, Pricilla Wright, were the three original performers in 1955, returned to the auditorium with the sounds of history making rock and roll music again. To honor Elvis Presley the tribute former, Walt Sanders and the Cadillac Band sang Elvis' favorite songs. Look what can happen when a group of caring, compassionate and directive parents, teachers, administrators, alumni and students set out to celebrate an anniversary of a special event. A year ago, with the help of many wonderful friends, the Taking Care of Business Association, TCB, was formed. We started off on a journey to preserve the past and capture a time in history that is near and dear to many citizens of Brooklyn, Ohio. Along the way TCB met many wonderful people and were proud to become friends with. There were many exciting moments along the way, and there were many people to thank. TCB has truly worked as a team to provide a wonderful evening for everyone to enjoy. To all of our sponsors we would like to say thank you: Forest City, Motter's Music, Accident Injury Treatment Center, Hampton Inn, Mayor Patton and John Coyne. We appreciate that you saw the potential that this second Brooklyn history making event. We thank you for your time and your contributions. We also thank the, especially thank the Mayor and City Hall and all the services that our people in our local government provided for us. We thank you all for your support and your contributions throughout the year. Mayor Patton, I also have a special plaque here for you. This is a... I'll show it to you first. This is a poster celebrating the 50th anniversary benefit celebration. There is an authenticity certificate on the back, and I'd like to read this to you. "The Brooklyn City School District hereby certifies this piece of the rear stage floor, herein, as authentic. The Brooklyn Board of Education has passed a resolution on six eight 22, which certifies that the stage floor located at 9200 Biddulph Road, Brooklyn, Ohio, within the auditorium, recognizes as a historical site by the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Museum, as the original flooring installed in 1953, and removed in July of 2004. Also, the Board of Education hereby certifies the stage floor as the flooring in which many historic performances occurred, including, but not limited to, the October 20, 1955 Bill Randal concert, featuring performances of Elvis Presley, the Four Lads, Pat Boone, Pricilla Wright, Bill Hailey and His Comets.' So... Oh, the frame is made out of the stage floor. So that is authorized at the bottom."

Mayor Patton: "Thank you Denise."

Mrs. Hudak: "You're very welcome."

President Balbier: "Denise, I also want to congratulate you. I was there that night, and I don't know what you could have done to make it any better. It was a great job."

Mrs. Hudak: "Thank you."

President Balbier: "Anyone else care to speak?"

Shirley Palumbo: "Shirley Palumbo, 10218 Micka Drive, Brooklyn. I'm here to remind you of the holiday bazaar that's going to be held at Brooklyn High School this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. And we're going to have signs up everywhere, giving you reminders. And please come and start your holiday shopping with special crafts, gift sales, and flea market, and enjoy lunch and a bake sale. And I'd also like to say that we met today with city officials at Brooklyn, and they provided us with a letter of intent showing their support for the animal shelter project. And we discussed a timeline for scheduling and financing with the project. I'm very pleased at the progress we made today, and I would like to thank city officials for being so gracious to have a meeting with us today. Thank you."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mrs. Palumbo. Anyone else? Okay, we'll move on, to reports from Committees, Commissions and Boards. And the first is the Public Works Commission, and that's chaired by Mr. Greg Frey."

Councilman G. Frey: "No report Mr. Balbier."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mr. Frey. Next is the Public Safety Committee, and that's chaired by Mrs. Kathleen Pucci."

Councilwoman Pucci: "No report this evening."

President Balbier: "Next is the Planning Commission, and that's Mr. John Frey."

Councilman J. Frey: "A couple of items, thank you Mr. Balbier. One that I don't particularly like, but it's been approved. At Ridge Park Square in those parking lots, the owners of Ridge Park Square want to put banners on all of the telephone poles to kind of, they think, dress up the place. There'll be big banners of I think red and blue, maybe a little white in them. They've done the same thing over in Westlake, Tom Ockington?"

Comm. Ockington: "Rocky River."

Councilman J. Frey: "Rocky River. And so every one of those light poles at Ridge Park Square, both parking lots, both sides of the street, are going to have these big banners like flies, I mean like flags not flies. And anyway, they'll be whopping in the breeze, and hopefully they maintain them instead of letting those wear out and hang there as loose rags. But it's very expensive material, it's going to cost them a lot of money. And I'm not for anymore signs in Brooklyn. But these don't advertise anything, they're decorative signs they say. And then we have site plan approval for a storage facility at Associate Avenue, and that's been delayed a couple of times. They want to put these storage facilities in. And also there's a sign approval with Certo Architects for another site plan approval for additional parking on Brookpark Road, 9000 Brookpark Road."

And that's about the extent of the Planning Commission meeting on Thursday, the first Thursday of November. Thank you."

President Balbier: "Mr. Frey, how big is big for those flags?"

Councilman J. Frey: "Big. How big is big? It's bigger than a bread box."

President Balbier: "Mr. Ockington."

Comm. Ockington: "They're vertical, and I believe they're about three feet wide by about eight feet long. They just have an image on them, they don't have lettering."

President Balbier: "Next is the Rec Board, and we have a meeting once a month, and our next meeting is next Monday at 6:30 in the Mayor's Court. Next is the Finance Committee, and that's Mrs. Pucci."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. The Finance Committee did meet earlier this evening and approved the following legislation. Resolution 2005-17. This accepts the amount and rates approved by the Budget Commission and authorizes the necessary tax levies for 2006. This represents no change for us, we remain at 6.9 mills. Ordinance 2005-41, authorizing an inter-fund transfer of $114,714 from the Plain Dealer Debt Service Fund to the Bond Retirement Fund. We are transferring this in preparation for our payment which is due on December 1st, and that payment is for $369,822.50. Regarding the fire station, we received a packet of the bid information for the new fire station. Unfortunately the bids came in approximately 800,000 above our last estimate. We only received this tonight, and there's a lot of information to absorb. We are scheduling a special Finance Committee meeting for next Monday, November 21st at 7 p.m. This is a public meeting, and I would encourage anyone who has any questions or would like to hear the full discussion to attend this meeting. Municipal income tax collections are continuing to hold, and as of last Friday we are $929,000 ahead of last year. And the Finance Committee will meet at 6 p.m. instead of 6:30 before our next Council meeting, which is November 28th. And this is due to the awards ceremony for the recycling poster contest. That completes my report, thank you Mr. Balbier."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mrs. Pucci. Next is Domestic Violence and Legislative Update, and that would be Mrs. Gallagher."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "No report Mr. Balbier."

President Balbier: "Thank you. Next is the Zoning Board of Appeals, Mr. Ockington."

Comm. Ockington: "The Zoning Board of Appeals meeting is this Wednesday, November 16th at 7 p.m. in the Mayor's Court."

President Balbier: "Thank you. That completes the report from Committees, Commissions and Boards. We'll now have the reports of Council, and first is Mrs. Brown."

Councilwoman Rita Brown: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. First of all I want to congratulate the winners of this past election. And I also want to thank the candidates who did not win. It's always hard to put in a tremendous effort, and finances, and it's a hard go to go through all that and to, I'm not going to say lose, because I don't want to call anyone a loser, I would just say and not win. But anyhow, all's well that ends well. And the city will continue on, and that is always good news. And so once again, congratulations to all. We are still having a problem with trash and old furniture and things of this sort, old carpeting, being put on our treelawns over weekends. Now I understand people are home, most of the people, most of our residents work during the week so on weekends they do whatever work they can around the house, and unfortunately load the treelawns, making us look like 'lower slobodia' instead of Brooklyn, Ohio. So I'm going to ask all the residents, when you see this happening, please don't hesitate. Council has passed an ordinance, we want our city looking good. And I'm sure all our residents want our city looking good. So please, if you see this happening, don't hesitate, call the Police Department, they'll send an officer out, and they'll advise the people, no, you cannot do this, and probably present them with an ordinance. Or if you don't want to do that, call me, I will notify the Police Department and they will send somebody out. My phone is 216-661-9807. I answer all resident calls. And please, this is the only way we're going to keep our city clean and top notch. Also, we neglected to tell you, this coming Wednesday at 7:00 we also have a meeting considering property maintenance. Now I know a lot of our residents are very interested in this, and this of course, as with all meetings, except executive meetings, are all open to the public. So feel free to come, we will be in the board room. And that completes my report, thank you."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mrs. Brown. Mrs..."

Councilwoman Brown: "Oh wait, wait, I'm sorry. I do have one more thing. Please attend our holiday bazaar, this is for the Brooklyn Animal Shelter building campaign. It's at the high school, and there's gifts, lunch, bakery and refreshments, and all kinds of things will be there, crafts and gifts, old and new and gently used, and door prizes awarded all day long. This now completes my report."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Gallagher."

Councilwoman Colleen Gallagher: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. Good evening ladies and gentlemen. I would like to begin tonight by congratulating all the candidates who participated in this election for the City of Brooklyn Council seats. It takes a lot of time and effort by the candidate and their family and friends to run for elected office. We are very fortunate in this country to have free Democratic election. I would like to thank my family and friends who helped me with my re-election to Brooklyn City Council. Without their support and encouragement, this election would have been very difficult. I also was encouraged by the voters' response at my door-to-door campaigning for the last six months. I would like to thank all the residents of Brooklyn who voted for me and for their kind words of support. I believe it is essential to listen to the concerns of our neighborhood residents. Their voice can give you a true picture of what is transpiring in our city. So thank you to the Brooklyn residents for sharing their voice with me. Also, there is going to be a workshop meeting at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 16th in the conference room at City Hall, and the purpose of this workshop will be to discuss vacant property. And I have three speakers who are going to attend. And also, congratulations to Denise Hudak on your success and hard work with the Academic Booster Club. Our students are very fortunate to have you. And I just have one last item this evening for Mr. Shaper. Tom, could you give me the status of the sexual offender legislation we talked about?"

Director Shaper: "Yes, I reviewed them with our prosecutor. She has talked to a number of people, as well as researched it, as have I, and it pretty much is where I told you, that it has not been litigated. I'd be happy to give you a breakdown, I did not know you were going to be asking that at this minute."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Well you said you were going to have a resolution drawn up, we were going to look into that."

Director Shaper: "I looked at the Brook Park resolution, or the ordinance."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "That was an ordinance."

Director Shaper: "Yes, ordinance. And I had suggested that the way to go about this... What's being discussed is a sexual offender ordinance where, and if I characterize it wrong please correct me. Right now, if somebody is convicted of an offense such as child molesting, a court opposes a sentence. Part of that sentence is, if a child molester, convicted child molester moves to your city, they have to register, and they're not allowed to be within a certain amount of distance from churches and schools. Am I correct?"

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Correct."

Director Shaper: "And what is being proposed is that the city takes those steps to increase the distance and increase where it can go. By the way, there are other communities around the country that are attempting to do this. And I say attempting, because the sentiments of this are 100% correct, and I stand behind those. There's no place for this in our society, and I mean that literally. There's no place for this in our society. It doesn't matter if you're 100 feet, 1000 feet or 100 miles, within in structure where kids go this is an act that is despicable. And I get uptight just even talking about it. It's something that's disgusting, to say the least. Never the less, I have a job as Law Director of the City of Brooklyn to say, if the sentiment's right, sometimes that's not enough. Sometimes I have to look out for, do we have the legal authority to do this? How do I do that? I analyze case law, and I talk with other law directors, I talk with public officials. What we want to do is right. We want to say the distances are not large enough. We want to keep the molesters further away. We want to impose restrictions. What's the danger of that? The danger of that is, we become a test case for somebody bringing an action against the city. And what I have advised, I'm not opposed to letting Council pass an ordinance identical to what is out there; I cannot advise you that therefore it will pass what they call Constitutional muster. I have said that if we believe the distances are wrong, it is our job to command the State Legislature to expand those distances. When the criminal penalty is given it should be a matter of state concern, if not federal concern, to say that person has no business being part of society, but if they're going to be part of society the restrictions that we have placed on them by our current laws are not sufficient, and those laws should be expanded on the state level. Colleen, if I promised you a resolution to impose upon the state, I haven't delivered it tonight, and I will deliver it at the next meeting. I did not know it would be coming up. And I'd be happy to provide you with a resolution encouraging the state to do such. Is this the sentiment that you want?"

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Well I asked you at the Safety meeting, you told me you would have it ready at that next Council meeting, and I waited and I never heard from you. So I know Dave Lambros did a lot of research on it, and he's law director of three different cities, and he had no problem with it. It's just passed in I think two other communities. So I think we need to heighten the awareness. And I just don't see how you have a problem with this legislation, but I will sit, if you want me to bring in the Prosecutor's office, I was going to have him speaking at the Democratic Club, I can bring in Assistant County Prosecutors, whatever you need to do, to make you understand the legislation, if you don't."

Director Shaper: "I believe I do understand the legislation. I do want to say Dave Lambros is an excellent law director. And law directors do things in our own way. I cannot look at the Council and tell you that if this is challenged it stands up. I can tell you that my advise is to say to the state, you are the one who has imposed this distance. The distance is not sufficient. We, looking out for the public good, ask you to reconsider those distances and go from there. I prefer, and it is my bias, is looking out for the residents of Brooklyn, that the state stand behind it, and the state be the party on the front line. Not because I have anything of support for someone who would commit anything that even resembles this, but for the fact that a symbolic gesture that has not passed a lawsuit, I don't feel good about telling you just accept it because another community has. I am not in any way saying that community is wrong. I am saying, until something goes before a court, I can't tell you what's going to happen, nor can anybody else. They can advise you of their best guess and go with that. There are stricter ordinances than that as well. I believe it's Iowa, but don't hold me to that, there is a city in a Midwest, in the Midwest, that has made it virtually impossible for a molester to live anywhere, for 95% of the city they cannot establish residency in. That is excellent on one end, if it passes, if nobody challenges it, and it works. But they don't know if it's going to work. I will... I can't stop Council from passing it, and you're welcome to do so, and I agree with the sentiment, and if you want to do that that can be done. If it's challenged I cannot tell you how it will go. I can make my best guess, and I think you understand what my best guess is. But I am always willing to learn. And if that's what you feel is needed, that's fine. I would be happy to pass the Berea resolution encouraging the state to expand the penalty section. I'd also be happy to discuss the matter with anybody you ask me to."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Excuse me, Mr. Shaper, we passed the cell phone ordinance, and everybody said that was going to be challenged. We had everybody in this Council chambers. We also had the news media. And that hasn't been challenged yet. So, I mean, these are passing in other cities, and I really think this is a problem and we need to address it."

Director Shaper: "I'm not telling you not to pass it, I'm giving you my advise. I am not on Council, I'm the Law Director. If you want to pass it that is your prerogative. I'll stand behind it if it passes. I just will not get up there and tell you something that I cannot say with confidence, I cannot say it confidently. If you wish to pass it, and you wish me to draft it, that is my job and I will do such."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "I just don't want one of our children to be violated, and, you know, this ordinance didn't go through. So I would like the resolution and the ordinance drawn up, and then Council to vote on it. Or we could go back and I could ask Mrs. Pucci to have another Safety meeting. I don't want to put you on the spot, but I think this is very important. And I care about our children, and I'd like something done about it. So that's all I'm asking."

Director Shaper: "I 100% agree with the sentiment and I hope the implication wasn't that anybody in this room doesn't care about the children, because everybody I work with does, and I don't think that's the issue. I think the issue is how do you deal with it where it stands up. And I will support it irrespective of whether I feel it's a proper approach or not. I will draft whatever you'd like drafted, and I will give it the best change that it has of prevailing."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Thank you Mr. Shaper. That completes my report Mr. Balbier."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mrs. Gallagher. Mr. Greg Frey."

Councilman Greg Frey: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. I would like to offer my congratulations to Mrs. Pucci and Mrs. Gallagher and to Mr. Patton on their election to the Council in our recent election. And I would just like to add, as an editorial comment. I have run in a lot of elections in Brooklyn, and I thought that this one was handled in such a really professional high manner. I congratulate all the candidates, Mr. Aldridge, Mr. Barrett, Mr. Salem, Mr. Morgan, as well as Mr. Patton, Mrs. Gallagher and Mrs. Pucci. We had some excellent discussions. The times when we were together, at the, be it the League of Women Voters or at the Republican Club, the Democratic Club, the Sun Times, there was excellent discussion, there were good ideas exchanged. I thought it was high purpose, and I was proud to be there with all of you. So I just wanted to say that. Regarding what Mrs. Gallagher was just talking about, I turned on the TV the other day and I see this guy in a shirt and a tie being interviewed on a major news program. He's a twice convicted child molester, and he's talking about how we've infringed on his rights about he has trouble getting a job and he has trouble getting a lease, and these kinds of things. And I'm thinking, why are you not in jail? I mean, you're twice convicted child molester, you're in your 40s, you know, you shouldn't be getting out till you're 153. I sometimes wonder, in our zeal to protect the rights of the minority, do we sometimes compromise the rights of the majority? I mean, where our children are concerned, I don't think there's anybody here or anybody in this town that would tolerate for one minute having people about that are a threat to our children, okay. And I don't think we should have to. A twice convicted child molester I don't think's ever going to stop molesting child, let's get them off the streets. That's the way I feel about it. And I know there are issues of Constitutional and high manner, but we need to make some statements sometimes. And..."

Councilman G. Frey: "Well then let's send a letter from the Council to our reps and our state, or to our Congress, whoever we need, all of our officials, and let's ask them that we, well let's tell them, that we expect them to do a better job protecting our children. I think we can all agree on that, and I think we can get that done expeditiously, with your consent..."

Councilwoman Brown: "Greg, could you put that in a motion?"

Councilman G. Frey: "I move that the Council send a letter to all of our state and federal representatives that we are concerned about the health, welfare and safety of our children, and that we expect our elected officials to stand up and start dealing with the problem of child molestation in a manner that starts to diminish the threat against our children. We're never going to remove it, okay, but perhaps we can do some things to diminish it."

Councilwoman Brown: "I'll second the motion."

Councilman Coyne: "Second."

Councilman G. Frey: "Okay. And the other thing..."

President Balbier: "He's got to call the roll first."

Councilman G. Frey: "Oh, I'm sorry. I'm just rambling on."

Clerk Fisk: "To approve the motion on child molestation, Rita Brown."

Councilwoman Brown: "Yea."

"Colleen Gallagher."

Councilwoman Gallagher: "Yea, with a comment. Thank you Mr. Frey for that. But I invite all Councilmembers and all residents of Brooklyn to come down to the court room of Common Pleas Court and you could see what goes on in your community, because it's out there and it's happening. And we need to address this situation in ordinance form. Just like John Coyne addressed the cell phone law. He didn't go to the state, he fought in front of the members of Council. And sometimes you have to take a stand, and I'm taking a stand on our children. Thank you."

Clerk Fisk: "Greg Frey."
"Tom Coyne."
"John Frey."
"Rich Albier."
"Kathy Pucci."

Councilman G. Frey: "Yea."
Councilman Coyne: "Yea."
Councilman J. Frey: "Yea."
Councilman Albier: "Yea."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Yea, but I'd also like to make a comment. I agree, I do think we need to take a stand. We know we have sexually oriented offenders in our community. We had an incident at our pool. Our Rec Center was warned about someone who lives in Cleveland, but in close proximity to our Rec Center. And I would suggest that we do call a Safety Committee meeting. We can discuss the ordinance. I am in favor of, Mrs. Gallagher, if you could set up someone from the County Prosecutor's office, some of our own police officers who have experience with this, and of course Chief Murphy, and maybe Mr. Lambros could come and share some of his insights with us. And that's no offense to you, Mr. Shaper. But since he has researched this and it's been passed in his community, maybe he could give us some insight. And I would suggest that we do call a Safety Committee meeting to address this, to see what else we can do. Thank you."

Councilman G. Frey: "We're good?"

President Albier: "You're back up Greg."

Councilman G. Frey: "The only other thing that I wanted to bring up tonight, Mr. Kappler, I was down at the garage briefly this morning, and there was a big dump truck and they were blowing salt into the dome. Our dome is filled up, we're about ready to go. When Mother Nature decides to visit us, which I assume will probably be sooner rather than later at this point in the year, we're going to be ready to do our jobs. Looks good down there Bob, good job."

Director Kappler: "Thank you."

Councilman G. Frey: "That's all I have, thank you."

President Albier: "Mr. Coyne."

Councilman Tom Coyne: "Thank you Mr. Albier. On the sexual abusers, I wholeheartedly agree with what Greg has said and what Colleen has said, and I think we need to move forward with all due speed to try and get something done. Congratulations to all the candidates who took the time and effort to run for public office. As it was mentioned here before, it does take a lot of time and effort to, and money, to run for public office. And special congratulations to those who were successful in their endeavor. Thank you Mr. Bob Garden for the update on Friends of Big Creek. This is a group I wholeheartedly endorse. I know we have a number of Brooklyn residents who support and are involved in the Friends of Big Creek. And I hope to see this operation grow and be successful in their endeavors. Diane Hudak, thanks to you and congratulations to you. I know you and the members of the Athletic Boosters have done a lot to put the fundraiser coming up Thursday, this coming Thursday at Chipotle's. And from what I hear there's going to be a lot of people there, it's going to be a big crowd, which will be good for you. And for the TCB, Taking Care of Business group, who did such an outstanding job on putting this 1955 reunion concert together. It was a fantastic show. I wasn't here for the first one 'cause I was over in Germany serving in the Army. But it was a great show the second time around too. And since last Thursday or Friday was Veteran's Day, I'd like to publicly thank all our veterans and commemorate them for all they've done keeping our country free, and keeping America free. I know I was watching, since there's been a lot of shows on Veteran's Day and especially World War II on TV over the weekend, I was watching a couple, one of them was Saving Private Ryan, some of them similar to those, and it really shows you what our young children have done to donate, dedicate their life and go wherever the government sends them to to save our country. And last but not least, Shirley Palumbo, I urge everyone to support your endeavors on fundraisers. I know we still have a lot to raise. And I support you entirely. Thank you. That's all I have."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mr. Coyne. Mr. John Frey."

Councilman John Frey: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. I would like to compliment all of the winners and give my condolences to all the losers of this election. And Gregory, I don't know how you got elected. You had few signs, you spent no money, you had no mailing, you had no literature, you had no cards, and you got elected. Could you explain that? Is it your personality?"

Councilman G. Frey: "My services."

Councilman J. Frey: "Service, good service. I'd like to compliment the people that cleaned up the signs that very night and the next day. All of the political signs were down and put away. You rarely find something like that. Most cities are lingering around for years, on telephone poles and anyplace else they could stick them. But that was a magnificent job for the clean up committee. Each candidate had somebody out there picking up their signs. I don't know if they were picking them up so they could use them in the next election. You've never used a sign twice, have you Greg?"

Councilman G. Frey: "No, most of them are much more used than that."

Councilman J. Frey: "Okay. Outside of that, I want to thank the road crew for cleaning up the leaves. They do a fabulous job. There's so many leaves this year, trees held onto them a long time. And they were out today, I hope they're out every day. They may have to put a second shift on with the amount of leaves that are coming down. But anyway, thank you for what you do. The street looks great once the leaves are picked up; but the next day our lawns are full of leaves then we blow them back out. So send that truck around a few more times. And I thank you. That's it, no more report."

President Rich Balbier: "Thank you Mr. Frey. I also would like to congratulate all of the candidates that ran. We had 8 candidates running, so that gave everybody a large selection to pick from. And I also was going to mention all the signs were down within it seemed like 24 hours. The only negative thing I have, it always bothers me when we have a low voter turn out, and we had another low one this time. And that always bothers me. Mr. Kappler, Greg mentioned about the salt. How is all of our equipment ready for the snow?"

Director Kappler: "Our snow equipment is ready. Right now they're still a couple of trucks that are going to be picking up leaves that will be transferred to salt trucks later. But we have enough of the fleet ready to handle a snow storm, so... We hope, we don't want any snow until the leaves are picked up, but if it comes we'll be ready."

President Balbier: "Okay, thank you. Also I've been reading the paper where Green Mountain, that's our electric contractor with NOPEC, wants out of their contract, and I guess the case is going to go to Federal Court. And NOPEC has already made an agreement with CEI and Ohio Edison where residential rates can be 5% less than 1% for small commercial customers. Do you have anything else other than that Mayor?"

Mayor Patton: "Yeah, I've got a little thing I'll read."

President Balbier: "Okay. Also Mayor, what about the firemen's contract? I thought we would have it on the agenda tonight. Where does that stand?"

Mayor Patton: "The firemen have reviewed their contract and we hopefully we'll receive it this week. And as soon as we get it we will process it to Council."

President Balbier: "Okay, thank you. That's all I have. Mrs. Pucci."

Councilwoman Kathy Pucci: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. I would first like to sincerely thank the residents of Brooklyn for electing me to a third term. I appreciate their confidence in me, and I pledge to continue to work on their behalf to improve our quality of life in Brooklyn. I would also like to congratulate all the winners and also thank everyone who ran for elected office. It's not an easy task, it's very time consuming and involved. So thank you to everyone who ran. I'd also like to thank the residents who called me and sent me notes and e-mails. I really appreciate their kind words of congratulations. And finally, I'd like to also thank my family and friends for all their help, I couldn't do it without help and I appreciate their support. I would also like to congratulate Detective Glandorf of our Police Department. He was recognized by the County Prosecutor for his investigation work that has lead to the successful arrest and conviction of numerous internet predators in Cuyahoga County. So congratulations and keep up the good work. As we mentioned earlier, we will be having a work session this Wednesday. I do have legislation that I'd like to discuss regarding foreclosed properties. I gave a copy to Mr. Shaper earlier this evening, and I'll pass a copy down for everyone. One of the problems we have is not knowing when a property is foreclosed upon, and also not having a contact of a responsible party when it comes to maintaining the property when it's vacant. I would like everyone to review this ordinance, and Mr. Shaper's going to do a little bit of research also. This would stipulate that when a property is foreclosed upon that the bank or mortgage company would have to notify the city, and also notify us a name, address and contact of a person who would be responsible for maintaining the property if it's vacant. Mr. Ockington, could you also make sure before our meeting on Wednesday that Council gets copies of a list of the foreclosed and vacant properties that we already know about? And the information from the county on what their plan is to expedite this process of foreclosure, so that we can, you know, read that ahead of time."

Comm. Ockington: "I'll give you what I have."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Okay, thank you. I'd also like to thank the members of the public who spoke, Bob Garden from Friends of Big Creek. I'm on the advisory committee. And I do believe this is an exciting opportunity for Brooklyn residents to have better access to our greenways. And there is a website, it's www.friendsofbigcreek.org. And Denise, thank you for all your efforts. At our last Council meeting everybody mentioned what a wonderful evening it was. And everyone who was there just had a wonderful time. So thank you to you and your committee for all your efforts, it was a great evening. And Mrs. Palumbo, thank you to you also for your efforts to make the Brooklyn Animal Shelter a reality. And please everyone, please attend the fundraiser for the animal shelter this Saturday at the high school. And that completes my report. Thank you Mr. Balbier."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mr. Pucci. That's completes the reports from Council, we'll now have the Mayor's report."

Mayor Ken Patton: "Okay, thank you. I want to thank Denise Hudak also, and the entire Taking Care of Business committee. You guys did a fantastic job. And I look forward to you volunteering for our Home Days. Excellent job. To Bob Garden, your group is very special. And Big Creek and its history is very special. A few years ago we found a 5,000,000 year old shark fossil right here in Brooklyn in Big Creek. They also have found dunkelosteus, and dunkelosteus is almost as big as a whale, and it used to survive at the bottom of the ocean, and his fossils are being found in the side of Big Creek also. So we're living in a place that used to be the bottom of the ocean, and we're finding fossils that are millions of years old. Congratulations to all who ran in the last election, and I'm looking forward to continuing working for all that's good in Brooklyn. Pertaining to the sexual offenders, I prefer being too tough on the sexual offenders rather than being too light and chancing any risk of any of our children being harmed. So let's do it. Brooklyn had an incident free Halloween. I even had a couple people came to my door that were older than I was, and if they wanted candy, here, you got it. But overall, where I live on Bentwood, we had a very large turnout. So I know some parts of the city was a little more scarce, but no incidents, and that's always good. Kids have good, clean fun. And I shouldn't say kids, because they were big kids. So we'll move on. Thank you for all who attended our public meeting. We attempted to get speakers, a couple cancelled at the last minute, pertaining to all the state issues that were out there. Thank you to the Brooklyn voters who passed our Charter amendments that were out there, they were long overdue to be changed. And we look to continue to improve our Charter as we go along. I'd like to thank Marian's Art Show, Sandy's Ceramic class, and also we had the Common Threads Quilting Guild. All of them had shows over the last few weeks over at our Senior Center. Very well attended. And the arts and crafts and the artwork that they have is just fantastic. And they do sell some of their products. So if it comes along again next year, please attend. Pertaining to Veteran's Day, thank you to our veterans for defending our freedom. The American Legion Post 469 also honored Marshall Bucci and Alex Kenish at a Veteran's Day dinner. Alex Kenish, in particular, was a Vietnam veteran, lost all his medals, and it took three years, but at this ceremony they gave him back all his medals from Vietnam. 352 people attended the pancake breakfast. They ran out of eggs on the last seven people, so we'll try to make sure that doesn't happen again. Today we hosted a skate party over at our Recreation Center, the John Coyne Recreation Center. The Brooklyn Middle School was honoring all who made the merit roll and honor roll. And I had the opportunity to purchase some pizza for them, and they ate well, skated well and had a great time. That's a great way of rewarding kids for good grades. Prior to next Council meeting we will have the recycle poster awards, so please get a seat early, we will be starting that meeting early. Received a letter from the Cuyahoga County Board of Health, the Commissioner, Mr. Terry Allen, and I'll read in part. 'The Ohio Department of Health is working on a state pandemic influenza plan that we are connected with the state to assure continuity in the planning and response process. We are working closely with our public health, hospital and safety force partners in Cuyahoga County and throughout the region to further assure this continuity. It is not known if bird flu will be an issue this year, next year, or sometime in the future. Our ability to respond to bird flu in a preventive mode will be solely based on the availability of a viable vaccine that would be disseminated by the federal or state governments several months into an outbreak. The stockpiling of anti-viral medications is being considered as a means to curtail the scope and magnitude of an outbreak. Therefore, we are concentrating our efforts in designing a plan with the assumption that we will not have access to vaccines or anti-virals and establishing a standard of care, and as a means to reducing transmission throughout the community. We are overdue for a heavy flu year. Pandemics occur about every 30 years, and the last pandemic occurred in 1968. With the new flu virus that has never before affected human emerges, the potential for national and international implication increases. If this new virus can easily be spread from person to person, it has the potential to spread rapidly and may result in high fatality rates. With efforts to assure ample vaccine being addressed at the federal level, we are concentrating our efforts in building our local response plan, utilizing all the bioterrorism planning, preparedness and response resources we have developed to date. There may be resources made available from the Ohio Department of Health later this year for public education related to pandemic influenza. As our community plans begin to take shape, we will bring in additional community partners to provide input in the process. We will keep you posted throughout the process.' And they work very closely with our CERT team from the City of Brooklyn, our Volunteer Corps. Very short update to add to the list of the things that are going up. Our sewer bills will be going up $1.65 in 2006, and that's per 1,000 cubic feet of water. So if you have any leaky faucets, leaky toilets, what have you, every time it drips you're paying a little bit extra on your sewer bill also. So that's how that's based. A short update on NOPEC. Rich did most of the updating. The Northeast Ohio Public Energy Council, in response to its electric supplier's notice of contract termination, announced today it has reached an agreement that continues electricity discounts for NOPEC customers through 2008. Current NOPEC residential customers will receive 5% discount on the generation portion of their electric bill in 2006. Current small, commercial and governmental customers will receive a 1% discount in 2006. Similar discounts are anticipated in 2007 and 2008. The savings will be indicated on NOPEC customers' electric bill from Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company or Ohio Edison, with a line reading NOPEC generation discount. All current NOPEC customers will automatically receive these discounts. Details of the agreement await regulatory approval by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. NOPEC is a not for profit council of governments consisting of 115 communities in eight northeast Ohio counties. Founded in 2000, it is the largest public energy aggregation. It is the nation's largest public energy aggregator. It uses no tax dollars. About 450,000 customers participate in the NOPEC discount electric program."

Councilman J. Frey: "Mayor..."

Mayor Patton: "Yes."

Councilman J. Frey: "...on that note, how does that affect those of us that opted into this new group you were discussing?"

Mayor Patton: "This is electric."

President Balbier: "This is electric."

Mayor Patton: "This is electric, this is Green Mountain Energy has severed their contract..."

Councilman J. Frey: "Okay."

Mayor Patton: "...terminated their contract with NOPEC."

President Balbier: "I have one question Mayor. If we sign this new contract, now NOPEC's signing, is it true that they're still taking Green Mountain to federal court then on the old contract?"

Mayor Patton: "Yes."

President Balbier: "Okay."

Mayor Patton: "And just to mention the gas part of NOPEC, I understand many of us received our gas bill and about fell over when it was $100 more. They continue to predict that the rates will go up a total of 71% this year. So do whatever you can. Board the windows, put plastic around it, caulk up. And there's a lot to do to protect our homes. Christmas tree lighting ceremony will be held on Friday, December 2nd at 7 p.m. Please come and enjoy some singing, cookies and hot chocolate. Old-Fashioned Holiday Gathering will be Sunday, December 4th from 4:30 until 6:30 inside the Senior Center. And we will also have free pictures with Santa Claus. HEAP applications are available at the Senior Center. The deadline for filing will be March 31, 2006. This program helps low income persons meet the high cost of home heating. Snow plowing, just because it might happen this weekend Mr. Kappler, please remember senior driveways will be plowed only after a four inch snowfall has been confirmed. And please remember that all city streets and sidewalks must be cleared before the Service Department will start plowing driveways. A Christmas raffle. The ceramic teacher has painted a beautiful ceramic Christmas tree and three-piece nativity set to raffle at the Christmas luncheon dance on Thursday, December 8th. And you can purchase your tickets at the front desk, the cost is $1 per ticket or six for five. And speaking of the Christmas luncheon, that's going to be December 8th, starting at 11:30, dancing beings at 1, and the music will be provided by Bob Spiwak's band. And the tickets are on sale at the Senior Center. We do have coffee with Mayor Patton. Brooklyn residents can come and join Mayor Ken Patton for coffee on Tuesday, November 22nd from 9-10:00 in the morning. And make your reservations now by calling the Senior Center. Plus, would you like to tell the President and Congress what's going on in your mind regarding senior issues? Now is your chance. Brooklyn is fortunate to have a delegate that is going to the White House Conference on Aging, where 1200 delegates will be advising older Americans now. The goal is to develop public policy for the upcoming baby boomers for the next 10 years. The first White House Conference on Aging was in 1961, and from that conference came Medicare. Come and tell Lynn Wieland what is important to you. Let her take your message down to Washington. And that's going to be with the coffee with the Mayor from 9-10 on November 22nd. We have an important after lunch speaker, and they speak from 11:45 and 12:00, right in that area. On November 17th at 11:45 Medicare Part D. Ellen Pachulski is Safe Harbor Group, L.L.C, New Medicare Part D. Learn how to avoid paying late fees, learn what everyone needs to know about part D, and learn whether to keep your current retiree coverage that you have. This is a new plan that's out there, and it's very confusing. We've sent Kay Hutkay and her staff over to review it. And we're constantly bringing speakers in to explain it. So it's about as confusing as NOPEC is. So we'll pass it on now. That's my report, thanks."

President Balbier: "Thank you Mayor. We'll now move onto the directors' reports, and the first is the Finance Director, Mr. Fisk."

Director Fisk: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. Just one short thing. We'll be presenting the temporary budget to Council on November 28th."

President Balbier: "Thank you. Next is the Service Department, Mr. Kappler."

Director Kappler: "Thank you Mr. Balbier. I have a couple of items. One is, our leaf pick-up, which has started. This week we'll be running two crews on day shift. Our second shift will be picking up leaves during the daylight hours. We're hoping to get most of the leaves picked up this week. As you know, next week is Thanksgiving, and we will be on a short rubbish route next week. On Monday we'll be picking up the normal Monday route plus everything east of Ridge Road. On Tuesday we will be picking up west of Ridge, south of Biddulph. And on Wednesday we'll be picking up the remainder of the city, everything north of Biddulph. And last thing, I'd just like to wish everyone a happy Thanksgiving. And enjoy the holiday and don't eat too much turkey. Thank you."

President Albier: "Thank you Mr. Kappler. Mr. Ockington, Building Department."

Comm. Ockington: "Thank you Mr. Albier. Regarding the foreclosed properties, I have contacted the Cuyahoga County Magistrate's office and indexing department at the Sheriff's office regarding a complete list of foreclosed properties in the City of Brooklyn. I was informed that there's no such list available at this time, but according to the county's supplemental report on foreclosures they are developing such a list. So we will get it as soon as it's available."

President Albier: "Thank you. Next is the Police Department, Mr. Chief Murphy."

Chief Murphy: "Thank you Mr. Albier. I just have this award that was sent, it's an annual award from the AAA, two-year achievement for the City of Brooklyn, 2005 Community Safety Award for pedestrian safety. And this is what they send out, so... And that's it."

President Albier: "Thank you Chief. The Fire Department, Chief Duchoslav."

Chief Duchoslav: "No report sir."

President Albier: "Thank you Chief. The Law Department, Mr. Shaper."

Director Shaper: "No report."

President Albier: "A lawyer has nothing to say? Never mind, never mind. I don't see the director from the Rec Department here."

Mayor Patton: "No, she needed off this evening."

President Albier: "Okay, so we'll move onto..."

Councilwoman Brown: "Mr. Albier, may I be recognized, I forgot something."

President Albier: "Yes, Mrs. Brown."

Councilwoman Brown: "Last Friday was Veteran's Day, it was also the birthday anniversary of our past Mayor John M. Coyne. The reason I'm bringing this up tonight, 19 years ago at the first Council meeting in November, then Mayor John Coyne appointed me to this position. During the time of his tenure we had good times, we had good meetings, we had bad times. I did not always agree with him, he did not always agree with me. But this is typical. Isn't it Mayor? However, I did not want to let this go unrecognized, as he was our Mayor for I think 52 years, or something like that. So if you want to drop him a birthday card, so it's a little bit late, so what. I just wanted to say, although we didn't always get along, I will never forget Mayor John Coyne. Thank you."

President Albier: "Thank you Mrs. Brown. We'll now move onto the monthly reports. The first one is from the Division of Fire. For the month of October they had 65 fire runs with a total loss of $16,100. They had 127 rescue squad runs, and the fees collected were $9,209. And the Run Saver Program, the fees collected were $4,424. From the Building Department, for the month of October, they took in $5,825 for permits and $1,875 in contractor registrations for the month of October. Next is the Brooklyn Mayor's Court, for the month of October, the total monies taken in were $54,313.05. For the Brooklyn Senior Center, for their special programs, the receipts were $3,120; charges and donations for services totaled $2,308; for a total of $5,428. And the last is from the Recreation Department, and they took in a total, for all their activities, of $31,934.57 for the month of October. That completes the monthly reports. Now if anyone in the audience has anything they wish to say on the two items that are on the agenda for tonight, now's the time to come forward. If not we'll move on."

Councilman J. Frey: "Just a second."

President Barbier: "Yes Mr. Frey."

Councilman J. Frey: "I'd like to ask Mr. Kappler if you would repeat those rubbish collection days, there's only three, and I think they should be repeated so people that do listen to this program know when theirs is going to be picked up. Would you recite again the list that you just gave us? Slowly so I could write it down. Monday..."

Director Kappler: "Are you ready?"

Councilman J. Frey: "Yes sir."

Director Kappler: "Okay. Monday will be east of Ridge to include the Biddulph section beside. Tuesday will be west of Ridge Road, south of Biddulph. Wednesday will be the remaining streets all north of Biddulph."

Councilman J. Frey: "Okay, thank you very much."

Director Kappler: "West of Ridge. You're welcome Mr. Frey."

Councilwoman Pucci: "May I ask? What if you're on Biddulph?"

Director Kappler: "We're not picking up Biddulph."

Councilman Coyne: "You don't get collected."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Pardon me?"

Director Kappler: "Biddulph will be picked up with the south side, it will be on Tuesday."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Okay, thanks."

President Barbier: "Anyone else? Okay, we'll move on. RESOLUTION 2005-17. Accepting the amounts and rates as determined by the Budget Commission and authorizing the necessary tax levies and certifying them to the County Auditor."

Councilwoman Pucci: "Introduced by all, suspend the rules."
